

Design of love

The armchair that puts classical and rave in a blender and turns the setting to 'party'

If your royal court is looking a little outdated and is in need of a 21st century makeover, this should be the first thing on your shopping list. Taking the ornate, classical style of old and giving it a thorough contemporary twist, the Queen of Love armchair isn't just loud, it's positively blinding. Put one in the lounge or garden and watch it quickly become the centre of attention. Sit on it, and you'll soon be declared the king of all that is cool, probably with a glow-in-the-dark crown. Match it with the outstandingly cool Prince of Love footstool. You are unlikely to be surprised to hear that Paris Hilton has several of these in pink on her villa's balcony.
